

The Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D. C. 20505

30 June 1980

Dear Dick,

STAT Thanks for sending along [redacted] name and address. I'm sorry that he feels he's had such a run-around.

STAT In fact, about a year ago he was interviewed by our [redacted] recruiting office. Since he does not have a college degree and his experience has been quite limited, we had to deny his application to become a CIA officer. [redacted] then appealed to Congressman [redacted]. We reviewed the whole situation once again and informed the Congressman that we just didn't feel he was qualified for the type of position he sought. STAT

We've looked the case over still again. I think it would be unfair to suggest that any change in this evaluation would be fair to him or to us.

Wish I could have helped him more. This just doesn't seem to be the right place for him.

Best wishes.

Yours,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be "Sten" or "Stansfield", written in a cursive style.

STAT STANSFIELD TURNER

